

a little of tomorrow...old and new sculpture and architecture that add beauty to everyday living...

...An every-fortnight trip to the U.S.A. to see make movies or machine tools...elect a president or a college May Queen...build a telescope to peer a billion light-years into space, or contrive an ingenious toy.

LIFE will take you into laboratories and hospitals to watch scientists fight disease and extend the horizons of our knowledge...to stadia and playing fields for sports competitions.... to fitting rooms to see the new fashions.

LIFE will bring you, too, many thoughtful, authoritative articles in the fields of economics and politics, "close-ups" of important or interesting people, and discerning discussions of our curious kind of peace.

LIFE will bring you laughs, -- provided by professional funnymen on stage and at their typewriters and drawing-boards-- by unconscious comedians as their antics are caught by the candid camera.

And you may now get this LIFE-sized view of the world at a special two-year rate which saves you 10% or more under the price you would have to pay year-by-year.

To start LIFE coming to your home or office each fortnight, simply fill out the enclosed card, indicate if you wish the money-saving two-year subscription which saves you the bother of renewing again next year and protects you against any price rise...and send it to us in the enclosed envelope--today, if you possibly can.

Brasque noturno inútil sem seus fachossamenta.

nostra alma mesma é uma torrente dessecada.

A alma saturada de tempo e sem defesa.

Noite mais alta que todas as estrelas.

Tu estás no ²⁷agredo de pulsações e lapides.

Para ouvir os altíssimos galópes que sem parar te sobressaltam.

Porém ~~o~~ meu lamento não é simplesmente humano.

Como as aves migradoras, noite, tu ouves da estação gelada - tua cabeleira é ~~no~~ úmida como nossos beijos.

~~Para tua tenebrosa mesania~~

Terra empapada de céu, como o mar, de sal.
